DON'T "GIVE" AT THE OFFICE

A CRIME PREVENTION MESSAGE
FROM CAMPUS SECURITY

We have chosen the cartoon character above to call attention to the problem of personal thefts of (and from) purses and wallets .... not because there is any humor in being victimized when at work or visiting on campus, but to bring home to all of us the fact that there have been several incidents of this type reported during the past year.

No one reported seeing this fellow lurking in a hallway or sneaking out of an office. The people who commit such thefts do not advertise. They do not stand out from anyone else on campus. Despite the Dick Tracy cartoon image, criminals are not identifiable by their appearance.

Why not lock up your belongings and put the whole matter at rest? Give the following suggestions a try. The effort could be worth it.

1. LOCK your purse and wallet in a cabinet or drawer or keep it on you at all times.
2. If you notice unknown persons loitering in your area, call Campus Security and let them check the situation out. You have the right to know if they belong there.
3. Do not hang purses over backs of chairs when in cafeterias or where persons will be walking by. Don't let shoulder bags swing behind you as you walk. Be aware of persons following you.
4. Don't leave your area unsecured for "just a minute" to use the restroom or copy machine. It takes a thief only seconds to steal what it takes you hours to earn. If you make him work for it .. he won't. And remember ... call Campus Security at 304-1111 for information or assistance.
